

We are seeking an experienced Quantity Surveyor to join our Stepnell team to work across projects in the South West, mainly in and around Bristol. The successful candidate will be responsible for maintaining robust commercial and contractual control throughout the post-contract phase of construction projects. You will be integral to the smooth delivery of projects, ensuring that contractual obligations are met and company standards upheld.

Key responsibilities:

- Oversee all commercial and contractual activities throughout the construction process
- Ensure contractual obligations are fulfilled while reporting directly to the Commercial Manager/Managing Quantity Surveyor
- Advise the pre-construction department during the tender process on subcontractor selection, package scopes, and preliminaries
- Review tender documents, including bills of quantities, to ensure accuracy and comprehensiveness
- Support the project team during pre-construction processes such as "Build it in a Day."
- Analyse contract documents and highlight conditions and obligations that could impact the projects financial or programme outcome
- Provide commercial and contractual advice to the site team throughout the project.
- Manage all financial arrangements with the Main Contract, including cash flow schedules, interim valuations, and variations
- Prepare and agree on final accounts, ideally by Practical Completion or within 3 months of project completion
- Ensure monthly consultations with the client team on the forecast final account
- Manage commercial and contractual relationships with all subcontractors, including negotiations, orders, interim valuations, and final accounts
- Conduct interviews with at least two subcontractors for key packages, ensuring the right selection for the project
- Seek out profit opportunities and agree on package target values with senior management
- Maintain project profitability, including package targets and overall launch target
- Address contractual requirements and identify commercial risks and opportunities
- Record lessons learned and receive feedback from the client team

The ideal candidate:

- Proven experience in a Quantity Surveyor role, ideally within the construction sector
- Strong knowledge of commercial and contractual processes
- Excellent communication and negotiation skills
- Ability to manage multiple subcontractors and drive financial outcomes
- Strong analytical and problem-solving skills
